State Association of Elks Opens Convention-Big Reception To Be Given Tonight.

ALEXANDRIA. Oct. 5.—Alexandria is in the hands of the Virginia Elks to-day, several hundred members of the day, several hundred members of the antiered tribe having arrived here last night and this morning to attend the annual convention of the State Association of Eiks. By tonight 250 additional Eiks are expected from Washington and Maryland, and the social resident to be given tonight will be attended by more members of the order than have ever rathered in this State. than have ever gathered in this State.
The convention was opened at 11 o'clock in the Elks' Auditorium. Robert 8. Barrett, chairman of the local enter-lainment committee, called the meet-ing to order and the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopul Church, State chaplain, delivered the invocation. Mayor Fisher delivered the address of welcome, and Congressman Charles C. along the especially illuminated section of upper Seventh street between New York avenue and S street, where the cobble ceases to frouble and the asphalt has come to make things glad. Chief Marshal Joseph Berberich led his forces between walls of humanity outlined in red fire and set against a background of flag-drapped and brilliantly illuminated buildings. The parade consisted of three sections made up largely of highly decorated automobiles, floats, and grotequely attired carnival marchers. At the head of the procession, behind the chief marshal, a squad of mounted policemen and a band, rode Commissioners O. P. Newman, Louis Brownlow, and Major Charles W.
